SOLDIER SUE FOR DIVORCE

May Foden of East Liverpool has filed a petition in the common pleas court against her husband, Frederick Foden, asking for divorce. The wife states in her petition that she was married to the defendant July 26, 1910, at East Liverpool and they have one child. The husband is charged with cruelty, in that he refused to pay doctor and hospital bills when his wife was operated upon in October, 1914, that he threatened to kill her, and at another time struck her and knocked her down and on January 24, 1918, he published a notice in the papers that he would not be responsible for any debts contracted by the plaintiff.

The defendant, during the war, enlisted in the Canadian army, and was compelled by the regulations, to make an allotment out of his pay. Except for this sum, the plaintiff claims he has not given anything for the support of her and their child for the past four years. The couple own property in East Liverpool, and the plaintiff asks that she be granted alimony from this, and that she be given the custody of the child.

GREAT DEMAND FOR ARMY FOOD

Five Thousand Cases Sold In Cleveland Saturday.

Cleveland, Aug. 9.—Five thousand cases of army food went on sale today in Cleveland and the supply was not sufficient to meet the demand.

City authorities announced that six additional carloads will be sold Monday and plans are under way to secure, if possible, 12 or 15 carloads more.

So great was the demand today for the army foodstuffs that sales had to be limited in order that as many as possible might share.

The line at Central armory, where the foodstuffs were on sale, began to form at 4:30 this morning.

"On the other hand the president's recommendations met with favor with many other senators who represent the great agricultural districts.

"I don't believe that there was anything in the recommendations that anyone could object to," said Senator Sterling of North Dakota.

Senator Capper of Kansas, who has been one of the most active representatives of the farmers and who has devoted much time to the problem of the high cost of living, declared that the recommendations "were very valuable."

"I heartily agree with most of the recommendations," Senator Capper said, "although I believe that the extension of the food control act, insofar as it will affect the fixing of the price of wheat will meet with opposition. The recommendations for the regulation of cold storage and for the licensing of industries, particularly the packers, I have favored for some time."

Two of the provisions which the president recommended will get quick action in the senate. The licensing of corporations dealing in food products will be taken up by the agriculture committee on August 18, when the Kenyon bill, which would regulate the packers by license, will be considered. Senator McKellar of Tennessee, already has introduced a bill for the regulation of cold storage plants. He has discussed the bill with President Wilson and was ready today to urge immediate action at the earliest possible moment.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa, author of the bill to license the packers and dealers in foodstuffs, will return from a vacation next week to push the measure.

When it met today Speaker Gillett gave the president's message to the house and the various committees having jurisdiction over specific recommendations made by the president assumed control of their share of the legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect. The appropriations committee planned to look into the matter of appropriations asked, and to rush a deficiency appropriation bill to cover necessary expenditures.

FOOD HOARDED JURY LEARNS

Cincinnati, Aug. 9.—The Hamilton county grand jury today submitted to Judge Matthews its report on food hoarding as found by its recent investigations. Among other things the report states:

"The grand jury is convinced beyond any doubt that there is profiteering and hoarding of food in Hamilton county. These discoveries have been made and are plain facts.

"The government should release all excessive quantities of foodstuffs, especially that held by the cold storage houses in Hamilton county.

"The United States bureau of markets in Cincinnati is one of the big causes of high cost of living, and should be discontinued at once."

The investigations will be continued.

Stock Yards Employees In Chicago Threaten To Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Officials of the packing house employees' union met today with Chief of Police Garrity to present formally for the first time their demands that the police and special deputies assigned to the riot zone since the start of the race riots here be withdrawn before they call off the strike of packing house workers.

Unless their demands are met, union officials say between 5,000 and 40,000 workers will be on strike tonight and the packing plants will be compelled to close down completely Monday.

Packing house representatives estimate the number of men and women out at 10,000. Figures submitted by the union leaders place the number on strike at about 30,000.

While no disorders of any kind have been reported from the stock yards district, Chief of Police Garrity declared today that the police would not be removed from the yards until a formal request is made by the packers for their removal. The packers in turn said they were under the jurisdiction of the police and are powerless to take steps to have the officers removed.

SHOPMEN MAY VOTE TO RETURN TO WORK

Columbus, Aug. 9.—Nearly 5,000 shopmen employed in the railroad shops in Columbus, who have been on strike, will vote tonight to see whether they shall return to work Monday as asked by President Wilson or whether they will prolong their strike. Officials of the union believe the vote will result in a decision to return.

No Danger of Food Shortage In Event of Rail Tie-Up.

Danger of a shortage of food in East Liverpool and Columbiana county in the event of a serious railroad tieup was minimized Saturday upon receipt by Mayor J. S. Wilson of a telegram from J. C. McKinley, of Wheeling, president of the Liberty Transit company, offering to place additional packets in operation on the upper Ohio river for transportation of foodstuffs.

The telegram reads: "Should the railroad situation become more serious the Liberty Transit company will try to add additional boats to their present fleet, thereby increasing its service and will give preference to movement of food product."

The Liberty Transit company now operates three large packets on the upper Ohio river, plying between Pittsburg and Charleston, Parkersburg and Cincinnati.

"In the matter of wages, we have submitted an eminently just proposition. We have said that if we are to continue to live as Americans should live, and are to care for our families as American families should be cared for, the profiteers must be restrained and our wages increased. If congress and the president cannot meet this request, it is still a living question and we shall have to try to find another solution.

"This, however, bears in no way upon our sponsorship of the Sims bill, which embodies the Plumb plan. We do hold to our conviction that the railroad employees are in no mood to consign themselves finally to the autocratic control of financial dictators, but in proposing the elimination of capital and the directorate, we have no purpose of intimidation. We appeal to the statesmanship of America and to the common sense of American manhood and womanhood. What we ask is the Americanization of the railroads."

Included in the signatures to the statement are those of the heads of the four big brotherhoods.

NEW DRESS FOR GEMS OF ART

Washington—After more than fifty years of service the mural decorations in the United States capitol are being given a new dress.

When the Republicans returned to power in congress they made some radical steps in the matter of maintenance of the capitol and one of the most radical was the issuance of an order that the mural decorations be re-done. For more than thirty years Brumidi, an Italian artist, worked on the mural decorations of the capitol building. The work was completed during Civil War times and has not been touched since. An artist is now at work, retouching all of the mural decorations and bringing out some of the works of art that have gone unnoticed for years because of heavy coats of dust and dirt. Whether this artist will be able to finish the work is a matter of political conjecture, because it is estimated that it would take five years to complete the re-touching, and who knows whether the Republicans will remain in office that long?

Another radical step taken by the Republicans was the opening of the marble baths in the senate office building. Democrats kept these baths nailed up tight and contented themselves with the large marble bathtub that was used by Webster. Now the more modern baths with a fine marble swimming pool are open every day and, of course, Saturday nights.

MARGUERITE CLARK AT STRAND MONDAY

Admirers of dainty Marguerite Clark will find her in a most congenial environment when they see her latest Paramount photoplay, "Let's Elope," which will be featured at the Strand theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The picture is an adaptation by Katherine Reed of Fred Jackson's successful play, "The Naughty Wife," which was produced at the Harris theatre, New York, November 17, 1917.

The new play is a farce and abounds with amusing situations. One of the funniest of these takes place on the night of the elopement of the young wife with a chap who is younger and, temporarily at least, more attractive than her hard-working husband. The latter, hearing of the adventure, insists upon helping the young pair to make a success of it, by offering them his own bungalow in the woods for a romantic setting, and his own presence as a chaperon.

The gowns and negligees worn by Miss Clark in the production were designed especially for the part she plays and are considered the most attractive creations which she has ever worn in the pictures. Frank Mills is the leading man.

East Liverpool Review

THE EAST LIVERPOOL PUBLISHING COMPANY

Entered at East Liverpool, Ohio, as Second Class Matter

The Review guarantees a larger circulation, proven by audit, than any other newspaper in the city or county. In East Liverpool itself The Review was almost twice the circulation of the only other daily paper of the city.

Foreign Advertising Representative Robert E. Ward
New York Office, 225 Fifth Avenue Chicago Office, 5 S. Wabash Avenue

UP TO COUNCIL TO ACT.

The street railway situation in East Liverpool is now in the hands of council.

In compliance with instructions issued last week, Solicitor R. G. Thompson will present to the solons for consideration at Monday night's meeting an ordinance providing for financial relief for the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company in the form of fare increases on certain lines. Aside from the one-cent charge for transfers with a five-cent fare on city lines, a seven-cent fare for city rides on eastbound interurbans and a seven-cent cash fare, or 15 tickets for one dollar on the Chester division, the proposed ordinance will provide for a 10-cent cash fare, or 14 tickets for one dollar, on the through trip from East Liverpool to Wellsville.

With traction companies everywhere confronted by the likelihood of receiverships by reason of wage increases to employees and the constantly soaring price of equipment and materials, fare raises are inevitable. It has reached the point where fares must be increased or public ownership must ensue, testimony before the Federal Electric Railways commission, appointed by President Wilson, reveals. Either way, the Washington (D. C.) Post points out, will provide better service in most cities than they are getting now. In either event, the public must pay for improved service or service as good as it formerly had.

Furthermore, the Post says: "It is certain, speaking broadly, that street railways will not stay their way under municipal ownership. Many advocates of municipal ownership do not think they should. They think that the public should be provided with better urban transit than can be entirely paid for by earnings. Public ownership therefore means increased taxation, while continued private ownership means increased fares. The people must eventually make the choice."

"In the meantime the inferior service the city railways are rendering is more costly than either more taxes or more fares. The railways are being punished for their sins of a day of exploitation that is happily past, but the people are getting their revenge at the cost of much hurt to themselves. The war between the utility companies and the public is over, in fact. Let the dead past bury its dead and settle the question in its present-day form, which is merely one of agreeing to pay a fair price for good service—that or public ownership and all its certain woes."

IF TEACHERS ORGANIZE.

Dean James Russell of Teachers College, Columbia University, believes that the day has come when public school teachers should organize, and that in such organization may be much benefit to the teachers themselves and to the public.

The establishment of high professional standards, of an ethical code, is to be desired, he thinks, but he says also: "An organization of teachers nation-wide and properly authoritative must be founded on principles that will be universally recognized as valid, and its conduct must be above reproach. No selfish motive can be allowed to interfere with the realization of its ideals."

"The individual teacher will find inspiration and renewed courage in the consciousness of marching shoulder to shoulder with his fellows in a mighty army recruited to fight the battles of civilization and democracy."

Dean Russell suggests a set of principles which such an organization might fairly adopt. Every member should be 100 per cent American. There should be no discrimination against any sex, grade or school. There should be equal pay for equal work, and a living wage always. The teacher should teach his pupils the fundamental facts of American life, and help them to make wise choice in their affiliations, but he must not proselyte, or conduct propaganda for any cause on which citizens are divided, and he must have a decent respect for the opinions of others.

To an organization founded on principles no one could have any objection. It would work to the advantage of teachers, pupils and public.

THE CONTRARY RUSSIAN.

That Russians are more "foreign" than other nations is the belief, expressed in Harper's Magazine, of Arthur Bullard, who spent a good deal of time during the war in Petrograd and Moscow for the Committee on Public Information.

"Once you get really to know a Briton, a German, an Italian or a Turk, you can prophesy with fair accuracy what he will do under given circumstances. We expect certain combinations of qualities. If we know such a man does not cheat at cards, we are pretty sure he will not steal from the collection-basket at church. If we know he is cruel to dogs, we don't expect him to be kind to children. But such combinations of character do not always hold true with Russians. A Russian acquaintance nine times running may do just what, from your previous knowledge of him, you would expect, and then, the tenth time, act in complete contradiction to what you thought was his character."

The charming family with whom he lived, for instance, to all appearances trustworthy, entertained lavishly with his store of provisions while he spent two weeks out of town. Upon his return everything was gone but the codfish which they did not know how to cook. They were sincerely sorry that business had kept him away while the fun was going on! The supplies—from America—would have helped out the whole family all winter. It never occurred to them they were doing anything out of the way.

Every well-to-do family had some "system" for getting food. One canny family had traded "some useless thing like a gold-mine or munition plant for a cigarette factory. They could buy anything with cigarettes." They even had white bread—for which they had bribed the chief surgeon of a hospital with cigarettes. It was part of a small supply baked for soldiers too badly wounded to digest black bread.

Another man, honest, public-spirited, intelligent, had himself elected member of the food committee so he could get all the food he wanted for his own table. Mr. Bullard says he can imagine a man in some other country who would do that—but he would be otherwise a villain. In the nine ways this man was square and public-serving.

Now how are nations who think in straight lines to know how to help a people like that?

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 9.—Thoughts while strolling around Manhattan: More than 620,000 autos in New York state. I've dodged all of 'em. Hope someboddy asks me to lunch today. Walter C. Kelly, the Virginia Judge, back from England. Heard he came all the way for a steak. Girl with lemon-colored curls and half-dressings has a son in the war. She looks 15!

Famous old restaurant still open. Hello! A new soft drink named after Lee Shubert. Soda fountains do not seem so rushed as they were. A salamanter touching up her lips with rouge before a drug store window.

Old dowager caught in a traffic jam in her limousine knows how to swear. Feeling for color in adjectives, that dame. Cayenne and mustard! Fine time I ever saw a chairman begging on the streets. Used to have one only in Chinatown. Called him "Old Horse and Wagon." Hops killed him.

Wonder whatever became of Tony, the Croucher? Old prize fighter and sold penny drinks in a hole in the wall near the Hippodrome. Dreadful doper. Chewed betel nut and hashish. Sometimes a big jolt of yeh-shi. Knew Kipling. Also King Edward. There's Copeland Townsend in a French car.

Cecil Cunningham leaving the Claridge. Tall, stately, Junoesque. Hope she notices me. Nope! She didn't. Looks like a bad day for lunch invitations. Still I've seen it start off worse than this and wind up at the St. Regis. There goes Mary Hopper. Fine girl. Brilliant. Peppy.

Looks like rank Coates of Toledo. Wonder if he put away any? Bunch of midgets on the way to the Palace. What does a midget do with his Sundays? Think I'll go to the movies. Hope they don't show those pictorial news things. Get you all keyed up. Then flash: "Butter making contest, Sank Center, Wis." Still they're nice. Dark and cool.

Add Worst Inward Shudders. Baird Leonard, the young lady paragraphist of the Morning Telegraph, was commuting into town from the wilds of Connecticut the other morning. The train's magazine boy came to a stop before her chair and looked her over carefully. Then he selected a periodical from his file and inquired solicitously: "Woman's Home Companion?" And Miss Leonard is in her early twenties and just out of Smith's. Fortunately she had her smelling salts in her beaded bag.

Greenwich Village after innumerable delays saw "The Greenwich Village Follies" at the Greenwich Village theatre and cheered lustily. The most interesting thing about it to me was the three young girls I saw smoking cigars in the lobby between acts. I followed them around for ten minutes.

Sonia, the cigarette girl, was in a box dressed in batik drapery. Bessie McCoy Davis was the featured attraction. She is always splendid. "The Better Ole" got its start at this same theatre and moved to Broadway for a run more than a year ago.

Charlie Falls designed the scenery. Charlie is the only artist in the world with bangs. He is not a village-ite. The village just amuses him. Bobby Edwards twanged his uke and sang the hybrid songs he used to sing in the red ink palaces when the Black Cat was in its prime. Clara Tice, the pen and ink artist, also had a part in the play.

Investigators of the Evening World stunned the town last week with absolute proof that poison drugs and patent medicines containing 25 per cent or more alcohol were sold from East Side push carts in the heart of New York—to be exact in Times Square. One investigator bought a patent medicine containing 50 per cent alcohol in front of a former cafe closed because it could not make ends meet selling 2.75 per cent beer. One push cart, ostensibly selling oranges, sold $320 worth of drugs in an hour.

EXCHANGE VIEWS ON LEAGUE MEETING DATE

Paris, Aug. 9.—The allied governments are exchanging views on the definite date of the first meeting of the league of nations in Washington next autumn, Marcel Huin stated in the Echo de Paris Friday.

The French government is urging that a program be drawn up without any delay and the United States is said to be insisting upon the presence of Premier Clemenceau as representative of France.

The premier was quoted as saying: "I shall not be insensible to the invitation."

METHODICAL BURGLER THIS; MADE 4,008 SINGLE THEFTS

St. Louis, Mo.—Arrested here for larceny, Leo F. Lingeman, thirty-three, married, admitted to the police that he had stolen one article a day for fourteen years from the Witte Hardware company, where he was employed. He also took an article each day from the Shapleigh Hardware company, where he has worked for the past two years, according to his admission.

Upon investigation detectives found enough articles to stock a small hardware store. They had not been used or sold. There were 4,008 different articles. Two patrol wagons were necessary to carry the loot to the station.

Only municipalities of more than 2,000 population will nominate candidates at the coming primaries, Mr. Hilbert stated. Aspirants to public offices from districts under that size must file their petitions with election board authorities before September 5. These candidates will be listed on a non-partisan ticket and voted upon along with the two main party ballots at the November general election.

Community Kitchen.

Columbus, Ohio—No work for the housewives in the fashionable Marble Cliff and Upper Arlington district. Today saw the opening of a "community kitchen." An expert, or "expertess," has charge of the kitchen. The choice viands will be delivered at meal time to the families who are "in" on the arrangement.

Pays Fine in Pennies.

Huntington, Ind.—When Clyde King was fined for speeding he placed a cigar box on the judge's bench. He was released upon his promise that there were exactly eleven hundred pennies in the box, but the bailiff had to count the coppers three times to confirm his statement.

$2,000 Sausage.

San Francisco.—The price of meat, at least, hasn't yet scared to the level attained by a three-pound sausage found here valued at $2,000. The sausage was discovered on the China mail liner China by customs inspectors, who said it contained opium.

The drug was seized and turned over to the United States Hospital Service.

Morning service at 11:00. Theme, "The Fold: Its Purpose." Evening service at 8:00, at which Rev. Mr. Macauley will deliver an address, "A Year with the 'Y' in France." Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will attend the service in a body. Sunday school in the West End chapel at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Senior C. E. at 7:00. Topic, "Speech, Wise and Unwise," Jas. 3:1-15. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8:00. The Sunday school lesson for August 17, Christian Missions, will be taken up for study.

TWINS MARRY ON SAME DAY NOW REPENTING AT LEISURE

St. Louis, Mo.—Twin brothers, discharged soldiers, who were married the same day, have filed suits for divorce in circuit court here.

The twins are Edward and Ben Vander Pluym of this city. They married in Springfield, Ill., June 14, 1917. Edward asks a divorce from Margaret, from whom he separated in August, 1917, when he went into the army.

He asserts he sent her an allotment of $15 monthly, but that during his absence she posed as unmarried and went with other men.

Ben asks freedom from May, from whom he alleges he has been separated since June 18, 1917, when he entered the army. He charges she refused to go on the street with him while he was in uniform, that she had another sweetheart and declared she married him only to get his allotment and insurance if he was killed.

COON HUNT IS STAGED IN ARISTOCRATIC THOROUGHFARE

Newport, R. I.—The monkey dinner, the master stroke of diversion introduced by Harry Lehr, now gives way to the coon hunt for society's excitement in these "dry" times.

The hunt was staged along Bellevue avenue. A fat but agile raccoon, which escaped from the estate of Paul J. Rainey, the African explorer, was the principal factor in this skit. The rest of the cast was made up of Rainey servants. Summer fashionables and merry villagers, and the usual children's chorus. The coon leaped along the aristocratic avenue, dodging motors and causing debutantes to skip with hosiery revelations added. The pursuit swelled, the coon bounded on, then straked up a friendly tree. Henry Nelson with the advantage of a bicycle was in the van of the chase. Henry journeyed up the tree and came down with the coon.

East Liverpool Judges Will Receive Supplies Monday Night.

PACKED ON THURSDAY

Ballots and other supplies to be used in the Republican and Democratic primaries August 12 are being distributed among the various districts of the county, Chief Deputy J. S. Hilbert said Friday.

Voting supplies were given presiding judges from Salem, East Palestine, Lisbon and Leontonia Saturday. Supplies for south-county towns will be distributed from this city Monday by Clerk Lloyd Gilmore.

Only municipalities of more than 2,000 population will nominate candidates at the coming primaries, Mr. Hilbert stated. MILL MAY GO TO FOLLANSBEE

Follansbee has not yet given up hope of securing a second plant of the Follansbee Bros. sheet and tin plate company. In fact the prospects of the plant coming here and being erected alongside the present big works are brighter than ever before.

A committee of town boosters who realize that the second big plant would mean for the town are working to secure a site for the plant.

Two estimates have been obtained. It is understood, on sites for the new proposed mill. It could be built beside the present plant or along side it, extending part of the length of the town, if property occupying those sites can be moved. It is upon this basis that these boosters are working. They are conducting a quiet campaign among property owners in the hope of raising a big fund to secure a site.

SCHOOL SITUATION ACUTE AT WEIRTON

In another year there will be approximately 700 new houses in Weirton. At two children to the house, it means at least 1,400 new school children. Schools are already crowded and the school situation promises to become acute in another year. The town is bonded heavily and another bond issue probably would be defeated. Just what can be done to relieve the coming situation is a matter now receiving serious thought by school patrons in general.

MORE SKELETONS ARE UNEARTHED ON FARM

Seven more skeletons have been unearthed in Weirton near the old brick mansion occupied by Charles King, where laborers are engaged in digging sand and gravel for the foundations for the new mills. This makes a total of 12 skeletons found in the last few days. All of the skeletons have been buried again.

It is now the belief that the small cemetery of which there appears to be no filed record, was that of a plantation owner years ago and that the skeletons are those of negro slaves who died on the place and were buried on the premises.

The sheriff answered the bell. On the steps stood Rasby Orr, a negro, who shot Eli Sammers, another negro. "What do you want, Rasby?" gruffly demanded the sheriff.

"Does you want me, sheriff?" asked the negro. "Ah understands you wuz lookin' foah me."

"Yes," replied the sheriff. "Did you shoot Sammers last night?"

"Yessah, Ah had to shoot him," said Rasby.

"All right. Go around to the jail and ring the bell," said the sheriff.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINTY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

$40 IN POCKET

On Monday evening Mr. Thornberry went to the closet to get some money out of an old vest which he had been using as a hiding place for his surplus cash. Finding the vest gone he asked his wife what had become of it, and when she told him the story, he told her of the $40 that he had in one of the pockets.

Mr. Thornberry sought the dealer in old clothes, but a search of the pockets of the vest did not result in the recovery of the money.

NEW CURE FOR BOLSHEVISM

Chicago, Ill.—Here's a new cure for Bolshevism. Morris & Co., Chicago packers, recently installed a piano in the slaughtering department of its plant at the Union Stock Yards, and Supt. J. W. Moward says it is a great success and that the efficiency of the men has increased 20 per cent since the men play and sing ragtime at the noon hour.

The plan has been enlarged and an orchestra has been formed of butchers. A chorus gives noonday concerts, and girls from the sausage department often come in when the music starts and there is a noonday dance.

"I find it drives away the blues," according to Howard, "and makes the men take a brighter view of life and every way. We are going further with it. I'm going to paint the walls a cheerful green, put flowers in the room and see if we can't be more homelike than ever."

BROTHERS MEET
AFTER 49 YEARS

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 9.—The other day D. F. Park agreed to answer the telephone calls for his sons, who are in the baggage business, as they had to be out on engagements. The sons have a booth near the Frisco Depot here.

Mr. Park was busy, but not too busy, despite his seventy-eight years, to notice a spry old gentleman who walked up and down the station platform, watching him. After this had continued for some time he approached the stranger and said:

"Do you mind telling me where you came from?"

"Not in the least—I am from Missouri," said the stranger, with a smile.

"What part?" asked Mr. Park. "I, too, am a Missourian."

"I came from Crawford county," said the other old man.

"So did I," shouted Mr. Park. After a little more conversation it developed they were brothers who had not seen each other since they parted forty-nine years ago. No word had passed between D. F. Park and his brother Samuel, now eighty, since they left Crawford county.

It later developed that Samuel has been living in Tulsa for three years and D. F. for eleven years. They are the only surviving brothers of a family of five.

Martin's Ferry — Five Republicans are seeking the nomination for mayor in this city. Jesse M. Barton, who lost a leg and was otherwise wounded in France, is the Democratic candidate.

Delaware — Grant Trigg in mayor's court swore out a warrant against Charles Holcomb, for violating the ninth commandment, charging him with having "meddled" in his corn field long enough to steal five ears of corn.

Cure of Dysentery. "While I was in Ashland, Kansas, a gentleman overheard me speaking of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes William Whitelaw, of Des Moines, Iowa. "He told me in detail of what it had done for his family, but more especially his daughter who was lying at the point of death with a violent attack of dysentery, and had been given up by the family physician. Some of his neighbors advised him to give Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, which he did, and fully believes that by doing so saved the life of his child. He stated that he had also used this remedy himself with equally gratifying results."

POPULAR DISHES OF SENATORS OF U. S.

Washington, Aug. 9.—What shall we eat in hot weather?

Doctors can give advice, but here are the most popular dishes in the restaurant of the United States senate:

"Half and half" and crackers. Horn sandwiches and near (not very) beer.

Lettuce salad. Devil'd crab. Corn cakes and milk.

Hardly sumptuous, but it is what the law makers fare on.

When a great plank steak comes off the dumbwaiter in the restaurant on a hot day it is always a certain sign that constituents are being entertained.

Since prohibition came to town the senate has been supplied with carbonated spring water and on hot days members bring it into the cloak rooms in cases.

PETE HERMAN
GETS CHANCE
TO SHOW CLASS

Will Meet Joe Lynch in Waterbury, Conn., Labor Day.
ARE NIFTY LITTLE BIFFERS
Lynch Attracted Attention In Bouts With Jimmy Wilde.

By JACK VEIOCK.
New York, August 9.—Pete Herman, bantamweight champion of the world, is going to be given the chance to demonstrate whether or not he still retains championship class.
Herman's opportunity to show the flaccid public that he is just as good as ever will come on Labor Day, at Waterbury, Conn., when he will face Joe Lynch, the clever little New York banty, in a contest for the title.
The matching of these two nifty little biffers is announced by genial Joe Mulvihill, the well known Danbury promoter. Mulvihill believes that in signing the little fellows he has arranged a card that will be as attractive as any bout held in the east since before the war.

Lynch attracted international attention a few months ago in two bouts with Jimmy Wilde in London. He handled himself so well on both occasions that his stock as a challenger for the bantamweight championship jumped sky high, almost over night, and along with Pal Moore and Wilde he takes rank as one of a trio of formidable challengers for Herman's sky piece.

Those who have seen Herman perform in any of his battles during the last year, especially at a meeting he had with Frankie Burns, of Jersey City, some time ago, are inclined to believe that he has lost much of the snap and vigor that won him the title.

Herman seems to have lost his punch, and, while he is still a fast, sturdy little scrapper, he may run into a big surprise in Lynch, who is fast and packs a wallop that his admirers believe will be the means of toppling Herman from the bantamweight throne.

The matching of Lynch and Herman paves the way for a series of corking bantamweight bouts within the next six or eight months, providing Jimmy Wilde makes good his announced intention of coming to this country in the fall.

With Wilde and Pal Moore operating on this side of the water interest in the bantamweight class will be keen for the first time since Kid Williams lost the crown. And if, in the course of a series of bouts among the leading bantams, a champion with a knockout punch is uncovered, the little fellows will come back into their own as pets of the boxing fans.

CARL MAYS, WHOSE SUSPENSION STARTS
A. L. WAR, HAS HAD A BRILLIANT CAREER

Carl Mays in two characteristic poses.

Ban Johnson's suspension of Carl Mays for the remainder of the season from the American league has started a small war and rumors of a strike on the part of other players in the New York club. Mays has had a brilliant career and the owners of the New York Yankees felt that with him in the pitcher's box during the rest of 1919 they stood an extra good chance of winning the pennant. He was suspended for jumping the Red Sox.

Ban Johnson's suspension of Carl Mays has brought on a merry war in the American league, and charges and counter-charges are passing rapidly back and forth. The New York club owners assert that Johnson is part owner of the Cleveland Indians, a statement they have not been able to prove. They say that other American league clubs angled for Mays after the pitcher jumped the Boston Red Sox, which is probably true. Johnson suspended Mays because the Boston club didn't after Mays threw a ball at the head of a troublesome fan, but in the meantime the Yankees had bought Mays of the Red Sox at a very stiff price. New York is very badly in need of a pitcher and is using Mays under an injunction order issued by the court.

Carl Mays has had a brilliant career on the diamond. He is twenty-eight years old, having been born in Louisville, Ky., in 1891. He started his career eight years ago, when he pitched semi-pro ball in Utah. It was not long, however, before he joined the professional ranks. While a member of a Utah semi-pro outfit his uncommon delivery and skill on the slab brought him almost immediate success and he attracted the attention of several minor league scouts. Early in the following year he was signed by the Boise club of the Western Tri-State league. In his first year as a professional he took a regular turn on the slab and when the season closed he had taken part in forty games and was credited with a total of twenty-two victories and only eight times did he meet with setbacks. He pitched a total of 235 innings during the season and in the small league he was the sensation of the year.
The start of the next season found him out in the Pacific Coast league wearing the colors of the Portland club. In the faster organization he did not get many opportunities to start games, being mostly used as a relief hurler. He took part in thirty-eight games and the majority of them were won or lost by other members of the Portland staff. Mays, however, did get credit for turning in four victories, but his defeats numbered ten. During the season he hurled a total of 131 innings. From the Pacific Coast league club he was drafted by the Providence club of the International league and in the season of 1914 he was one of the leading hurlers of that team's staff. With his underhand delivery that was entirely new in the league he won ten games and lost fifteen. He registered 159 strikeouts during the season. In 1915 he was transferred to the Red Sox under a working agreement and in the major league he met with instant success. His wonderful under hand delivery fooled the big league hitters as it had the minor leaguers and at the end of his first season in the big show he had a record of winning twenty-four games and losing eight. He fanned 129 men and issued 73 passes. A total of 249 base hits were made off his shoots. He has been a member of the Boston club since and in the last three seasons he has been a prime favorite with the Fenway park fans. In 1916 he won seventeen and lost thirteen games and the following year he turned in twenty-two victories and was defeated nine times. This was his biggest year as a member of the Red Sox and he allowed only 1:17 runs a game. Last season he accounted for twenty-one of the Red Sox victories and he was set back thirteen times. So far this season he has won only five times and has been defeated eleven times. Like the entire Boston club he has shown a reversal in form, but if he is allowed to pitch in a Yankee uniform the change of scenery should do him a great deal of good.

WON'T LET COP BOX
SO HE QUILTS JOB

Columbus, Aug. 9.—Because his superior officers would not grant him leave Monday night to box Dick O'Brien in this city, Patrolman Jack Geyer, who helped put Dempsey in shape for his Willard fight, resigned today. After his bout with O'Brien, Geyer will go with Dempsey on his 15-week vaudeville tour. He says he will draw down as much money in a month as his salary as patrolman amounts to in a year.

Mays has hurled several brilliant games against the Yankees this season. He started off the year by shutting out Miller Huggins' clan and in a double header played just before the Yankees made their last western trip Carl did an iron man stunt, hurling both ends of the bargain day at fair. He won the first, but in the second he weakened and was defeated.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Giants took a licking at Chicago. Art Nehf made his debut in a New York uniform, but could not out-pitch Tim Hendrix, who held McGraw's men to three hits.

The Athletics used up 13 innings taking the first game from the White Sox on Strunk's hit. Lowdermilk pitched the Sox to victory in the second game.

Married in Jail.

Hugo, Okla.—The first marriage ceremony to be performed in the Hugo city jail has been recorded here. Magie Bailey, arrested on a charge of vagrancy and confined in the jail, was married to M. F. York. Ray Stroud, performed the ceremony. A reporter, two policemen and other inmates of the jail were the witnesses.

GIANTS MAKE OFFER
FOR ROGER HORNSBY

New York, Aug. 9.—According to a rumor in circulation here today the Giants have made St. Louis a tempting offer for Rogers Hornsby, star infielder. Manager McGraw, it is said, will leave no stone unturned to bolster the slipping Giants. One report has it that the New York club has offered Heinie Zimmerman, Larry Doyle, Lee King and cash for Hornsby.

BRITTON'S NEW DEMAND
UPON MIKE O'DOWD

New York, Aug. 9.—Jack Britton has imposed a new demand on Mike O'Dowd, the middleweight champion, for their bout in Newark August 22. Britton asked that O'Dowd weigh in at 158 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and show the same weight at the ring side at 10 p. m. O'Dowd has agreed.

Former Big League Catcher in Charge of Downriver Club.

HAS A FAST LINE - UP

Carnegie Company is Promoting Athletics in Various Plants.

Thomas Needham of Stenboville, former big league catcher, has taken charge of the Carnegie Steel company's representative team at Mingo, and is putting the boys onto some "inside stuff" in preparation for their big games with the representative teams of the Carnegie teams all over the country.

The Mingo team left Saturday for Pittsburg to stage its initial game and is very hopeful of being successful. Needham will have a crackerjack lineup for the game at Pittsburg.

The mill can't ring in any outsiders because of a rule that a man must have worked at the mill a certain length of time before he is eligible to play. However, the Mingo team will be well balanced. The series will be one of elimination and the Mingo boys are anxious to get up into the finals which they believe they can do.

Economical Tires versus Cheap Tires

The day is past when people thought that buying tires at the lowest possible price was 'economy.'

Today, it is the tire that costs a little more to buy, but ultimately gives the most miles per dollar, that is popular with the majority of motorists.

The rapidly growing demand for Goodrich Fabric and Silvertown Cord tires is the best evidence of the fact that people are pledged to exercise sound economy.

DRYS PREPARE FOR CAMPAIGN

The Columbiana County Dry Maintenance league plans to take an active part in the campaign to defeat four referendums likely to be presented at the November election by the state liquor forces.

McLane, member of the executive committee, also attended the meeting.

Organization of the dry forces in all the precincts of the county will be effected following the meeting of the executive committee, Mr. Ankrum said.

Mary Pickford

"JOHANNA ENLISTS"
By RUPERT HUGHES
An AIRCRAFT Picture

Scenario by Frances Marion Directed by William D. Taylor

Mary Pickford plays the part of a little girl on a lonely farm who is simply dying for a beau—the only fellow she ever saw that she liked was a "beautiful" brakeman who went by very fast.

Then a camp opens up near by, and the farm is literally swarming with beaux in no time. Mary thinks she is not pretty enough and takes a milk bath and one of the officers happens to call at a very awkward moment—you know how it is on a farm—no proper arrangements and all that—still, see this great Aircraft picture for yourself.

PARIS GETS RUSS BALLET DESPITE AMERICAN BIDS

London.—The Russian ballet, which got itself isolated in Spain by the war and put in a delayed appearance in London, has been the object of bidding between New York and Paris and Paris won—with the lowest bid. It is reported one million francs were offered for the Paris engagement and that American theatrical interests topped that by a good margin. But the ballet will go to Paris first.

Her Husband Accused of Murder!

Your sympathies are aroused for the brave little wife as she fights for the ultimate victory of her husband in "The Missing Links." When the victory is finally won you cannot help rejoice with her in her happiness.

Some of the striking features of "The Missing Links" are a college escapade and elopement, a "run" on a bank, a murder mystery and its startling solution. How life seethes and boils at times even in a peaceful little town is thrillingly shown.
